THE WHISPERING GALLERY.

Recently I was present at the union o two very estimable young people. An observant person who had seen them grow in the hope that it may enable such that love matches are the exception. But it is a fact that many marriages have their motive in other considerations.

For example, upon one occasion I was travelling through a rural district of another State, remote from railroads. I had an hour to spend and accepted an invitation to steend a wedding in the neighborhood. The persons who were to be joined in the holy bonds of weddeck sat on horseback. The officiating clergyman stood on the door-step of a log cabin—his, not the bride's, residence. The bride was a staltwart woman apparently of forty years of age. The groom was a slight, pat-visaged man who could not have passed his twenty-fifth year. I saked a by-stander to explain the incorgrative of the situation. "Well, this is the way it is. I don't suppose Salile ever would a married of the admit been for what happened one night on the monatain. She never cared nothin' for men, nohow. Well, Salile had been about ten milos across the mountain and was ridin home late. A great big painter (parther) sprang at her and got her down. As the good Iron't would have it little Bill Williams and Salile Thompson kin hold her own as a worker. Here was a marriage for graitinule, with perhaps a little hero working him one of marryin'. But him and Salile face it up right there. Take the series of the case in the world, but I reaken they longer than Bill could build a cabin. They aim't got a dollar in the world, but I reaken they longer than Bill could build a cabin. They aim't got a dollar in the world, but I reaken they longer than Bill could build a cabin. They aim't got a dollar in the world, but I reaken they longer than Bill could build a cabin. They aim't got a dollar in the world, but I reake the propose kin hold her own as a worker." Here was a marriage for graitinule, with perhaps a little list of "A gentleman said to me yesserday, see your paper has been doing up the Johnson connection in its relation to the new Third Party. You missed a big figure in the connection, in the Convention and in the new party. That's Thomas B. Carskadon, of Mineral. He's Cousin Tom of the Johnsons—a good man, but consin to the Johnsons—a good man, but consin to the Johnson's all the same, and I'll tell you something clee. I understand it is the intention to run Mr. Carskadon as the Third Party candidate for Governor. He'll make an impression in the State, for my judgment he has more of the natural gifts of the crator than any man in West Virginia. He has courage and eloquence, but of course his party can't elect anybody to anything.

"Why didn't the INTELLIGENCER tell us more a bout Capt. Burt, of Marion'? continued the same gentleman. "He's a free see your paper has been doing up the distinguished fellow-townsman Birch, who is presently to dawn in full West Virginia is presently to dawn in full West Virginia effugence on the heathen of Nagasaki. Hayhap he will have the good fortune to be invited to dine with a native gentleman. If so something like this will occur: "Most excellent sir, I am about to insult you by asking you to have the condescension to dine with me. You will find the house very dirty, the viands scarce and ill-gooked, but I shall esteem it a great honor if you will accept an invitation from one so unworthy." Consul Birch, understanding the customs of the country, as all Consuls do, will accept in his best tea-box Japanese, and he will not be surprised to find things in about this shape: A house liberally fornished and scrupulously neat; a table generously loaded with every good thing; the service excellent; the ladies in grand toilette; the host affability itself—in short a very high-strung affair. If it be a state occasion he will go in full dress. His country having no Civil Service uniform, as other countries have, he will appear in his full black, low-cut vest and spade-tail cost; and the Japanese girls will wonder whether we put up more than one of that kind in a box.

That Prof. Birch has wen the hearts of all classes of people?

That he has done it by being gentlemanly and fair to everybody?

That the postoffice fight is just "aissiling"?

That it is in such things that we find our earthly account?

That we ought to have a dozen postoffices for a town of this size and a party which has gone hungry for so long?

his. Several marked the coin and recorded the date, and the drummer was trusted to leave it as agreed.

Next day, at the same hour a committee of three visited the room. Several colored people had been in and out while engaged in their vocations, but the dollar was there.

"Gentlemen, is the negro honest or is he not?" quered the drummer, as he pointed to the coin.

"We advanced to make sure it was the one. There was no mistake. The date—1879—was there; the nicks in the edge were there, but the drummer had taken it to a machinist to have a hold drilled through it, and had then screwed it down to the table. It was there so tight and fast that only a heavy screw-driver could loosen it.

"I have won," modestly exclaimed the drummer.

I have no doubt of it, and that thought pleased me more than the beautiful music and the sweet-scented flowers. One becomes very sour and falls very far out with the world before be believes that love matches are the exception. But it is a fact that many marriages have their motive in other considerations.

**A short-line are I by a willingness to share it with his neighbors, to point out the way for them to secure it is as little as can be done by him. In illustration of this, will you permit me to give to your readers acquired about the quickest and most comifortable route from this city to Chicago, in the hope that it may enable such of them as desire to take a western trip to select a route which will afford them every your first them.

Every article on this bill was on board the cars to be had if called for. The pas-senger was not told "we're just out fir," is is so often done in hotels of a good deal Yos, he wanted that. But that wasn't the worst of it. He actually aspired to Congress. True as you live. And when lightning didn't strike him his conscience got to work on him and goaded him so hard that soon it goaded him so hard that soon it goaded him clean out of the Republican party. Oh, yes, these moral reforms cut deep some times."

I am very sorry that everybody can't always be happy in this beautiful world. The wish to be of some assistance to those of our citizens who may desire to have a pleasant trip in selecting a good route has been my only notion in writing this.

There is no end to the medicines that have been tried, but I have only two that I abould recommend in the intervals of attacks, namely, iron with quinine, and the solution of araenic.

These I cannot give the doses of, for obvious reasons; but a duly qualified medical practitioner would prescribe according to circumstances. CARRIAGE TRIMMINGS

The Liver at its Work.

As the blood goes on its rounds through your body, it passes through the liver to be cleansed. In each of the little cells or chambers of the liver it leaves a deposit. The liver picks this up and makes it into bile, sending it in that form to do its work in other parts of the body. If the liver neglects work, Brown's Iron Bitters will correct it and sot everything right. Mr. D. Fitzpatrick Jackson, Miss., says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters as a blood purifier, and it has made me well."
